

Open to new ideas. Since 1365. As a research university with high international visibility and a wide range of degree programmes, the University of Vienna is committed to basic research open to application and research-led teaching, as well as to career development of young researchers and to the dialogue with economy and society. That way, the University of Vienna contributes to the education of future generations and to the society's ability to innovate.

The appointment of particularly qualified researchers to university professors is an important strategy of the University of Vienna. Become part of this vibrant and future-oriented organisation.

At the Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Vienna the position of a

University Professor of
Medical Anthropology and Global Health

(full time, permanent position) is to be filled.

We are looking for medical anthropologists whose work examines global health, interrogating the ways in which local and global aspects of health and disease are understood, addressed and governed. The candidates are expected to have an internationally visible research and publication record as well as teaching experience in Social and Cultural Anthropology. Co-operations with other disciplines within the Faculty of Social Sciences and with the Medical University Vienna are encouraged.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Habilitation (venia docendi) in a subject field relevant to this position or an internationally accepted equivalent qualification is desirable
- Outstanding achievements in research, excellent publication record, international reputation
- Experience in designing, procuring and managing large research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor's, master's, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and to promoting young academic colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor's programmes and for participation in university committees. In addition, the University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to be prepared to take over responsibility on the organisational level of the Faculty and the University, if necessary.

We offer:

- a negotiable and attractive salary (classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff, allocation to job group A1; section 98 of the Universities Act 2002); the salary will be individually negotiated under consideration of the previous career development and the current income situation
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees

- a “start-up package”, in particular for the initiation of research projects
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- comprehensive advice and support in relation to finding an accommodation, change of schools and dual career
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

The University of Vienna pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity (<http://diversity.univie.ac.at/en>). The University puts special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.

Application documents:

- Application letter, including a brief description of:
 - current research interests and research plans for the immediate future
 - current and planned foci in academic teaching and the supervision of young researchers
- Academic curriculum vitae, including information about “esteem factors” (e.g. experience as a publisher, functions in research societies or programme committees)
- List of publications, including:
 - specification of five key publications which the applicant considers particularly relevant to the advertised professorship
 - provision of an Internet link for download or electronic submission of PDF versions of these five publications
 - information about citations and impact factors, depending on the common practice in the relevant research area
- List of talks given, including information about invited keynote lectures at international conferences
- Third-party funds list of acquired third-party funds (subject, duration, origin, volume) as well as, if applicable, of inventions/patents
- Overview of previous academic teaching and supervised theses, especially doctoral theses
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- Copies of documents and certificates

Applications in English should be submitted by e-mail to the Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Vienna, Univ.-Prof. Hajo Boomgaarden, PhD, Rooseveltplatz 2, A-1090 Vienna (dekanat.sowi@univie.ac.at).

Reference no.: 490-40

The application deadline is 7 January 2019.

universität
wien

Privacy Policy of the University of Vienna

Open to new ideas. Since 1365. The University of Vienna is a research university with high international visibility and a wide range of degree programmes. We are committed to basic research open to application and research-based teaching and engage in dialogue with the economy and society. We strive to actively promote the careers of young researchers, to contribute to the education of future generations and to augment the society's ability to innovate. We invite you to become part of this dynamic and vibrant organisation.

At the Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Vienna the position of a

Tenure-Track Professorship for the field of Social and Cultural Anthropology with focus on Visual Anthropology

(full-time position) is to be filled.

We are looking for applicants from Social and Cultural Anthropology, who understand the field of Visual Anthropology broadly. This comprises the realm of ethnographic film and of visual methods within our discipline, as well as theoretical approaches. This can also include perspectives on the anthropology of art.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and at least two years post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution; as a general rule, applicants who have completed a doctoral programme at the University of Vienna, must have gained research experience outside the University of Vienna for at least two years
- Outstanding achievements and potential in research, excellent publication record, international reputation
- Experience in designing and participating in research projects, ability to lead research groups, willingness to acquire third-party funding
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities or a teaching concept. Candidates are expected to be willing to teach students at all levels (bachelor's, master's, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and to promote junior colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor's programmes and for participation in university committees.

We offer:

- the opportunity to obtain a permanent position and eventual promotion to full professor. The successful candidate is hired as "Assistant professor" for a maximum duration of six years. If the candidate meets the conditions stipulated in the qualification agreement, the assistant professor is promoted to tenured "associate professor", i.e. obtains a permanent position. If the conditions are not met, the employment will end upon expiry of the contract. Associate professors can be promoted to "full professor" through a university-internal competitive procedure.
- at least a salary according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff: section 49, job group A2

- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension scheme to its employees
- a dynamic research environment
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

The University of Vienna is an equal opportunity employer and values diversity (<http://diversity.univie.ac.at/en>). The University strives to increase the share of women in professorial positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.

Application document:

Please submit a single PDF document named “LastName_FirstName.pdf” to tenuretrack.personal@univie.ac.at containing the following information (in English).

1. Cover Sheet and Table of Contents
2. Application letter, including a brief description of:
 - motivation to apply for the position
 - current research interests and research plans for the future
 - current and planned foci in academic teaching and the supervision of early career researchers
3. Academic curriculum vitae, including information about:
 - education, degrees (incl. information about the PhD granting institution and the exact date DD.MM.YYYY when the PhD was conferred), professional experience as well as applicable family/care/... times
 - “esteem factors” (e.g. experiences as a publisher, functions in research societies or programme committees)
 - previous and current cooperation partners
4. Full list of publications, including:
 - highlight and separately list five key publications which the applicant considers particularly relevant to the advertised tenure-track professorship
 - provide links to these five key publications for download (if not available: full text electronic version in appendix)
 - describe your publication strategy, including targeted publishers and journals
 - provide information about peer review of publications
 - if common in your field of research provide information about indexation (e.g. SCIE, SSCI, AHCI), citations resp. book reviews received or other indicators of scientific quality/international visibility
5. List of scientific talks
 - Name invited lectures and presentations at international conferences
6. Third-party funding
 - complete list of acquired third-party funded projects as PI (role, subject, duration, funding agency, funding volume), and, if applicable, of inventions/patents
7. Academic teaching and supervision
 - list courses taught and theses supervised
 - explain your teaching and supervision concept (max. 3 pages)

Appendices to application document (in a single PDF or ZIP file named "LastName_FirstName_Appendices.pdf/zip"):

- a. Five key publications as electronic full text version (if not publicly available)
- b. Teaching evaluations (if available, compiled into a single PDF file)
- c. Copies of certificates of academic degrees (mandatory, compiled into a single PDF file)

Reference no.: 9178

The application deadline is 7 January 2019.

Privacy Policy of the University of Vienna